

PREFACE

The lunatic understands madness, the wise wisdom

This introductory sentence sounds a little strong, but for these times it is coupled, since there exists a without end, cultures, sects, religions that have dispersed the universal wisdom and they have mixed it with the thoughts of the mind in its egocentric portion bearing to the confusion and spiritual chaos that today one lives. The whole humanity interprets the considered sacred books to their whim and convenience, deviating the real intention of these, that is to build the spirit and the awakening of the conscience. If a book is sacred it should foment the spirituality and the life, not the materialism and death.

In these times beings that taken by the universal love, they visit our sphere earth and they contact in the astral world or fourth dimension people with spiritual projection and they instruct them continually, some capture the essence, other they discard it because they are "dreams". With the purpose of giving in the physical world the cosmic wisdom, they decide to contact to the human soul physically, Zigk Gmandus (Jesús David Mendoza), when being given the contact of seventh type, they gave him from mouth to hearings the whole didactics that today we presents you. When Reading this, many wonder for that the astral world? why they don't contact us physically to all? Well I will tell you that I also went by that stage, when finishing the book you will understand or perhaps not, equally I cannot tell you, because only wisdom is obtained through the own experiences, the only form of embodying the life is: living.

For 10 years I been part of the cosmic contact (see book Kósmic Kontakt) and I can give Faith that if you practices the teachings it will take you to have mystic experiences the Christ says : John 13:15 For I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you.)

In short, I tell you that I have put in practices what this book contains and in a period of 7 lunar (months) regencies the results have been better of that than waited, taking me this to publish it, to also help this way also other people .

The curiosity of life and the men is that to arrive to a place of the physical world one sometimes stops and asks to somebody that one believes that knows, the route to continuing; this can guide it or disorient, the third option is that he/she tells him that he/she doesn't neither know (for my vision it is it more healthy and honest). Serious important to apply in the spiritual path.

I dont know how much time you have been in your doctrine and religion, but it is hour to meditates, it is possible that this existence isnt enough to be liberated if iyou are on a path that give turns and it doesn't take you to anywhere.

Which the objective is? All human that is in fluency with their Great Presence or Real Being (Christ, Budda, Krisna etc.) and receive the internal (not external) teacher's instructions it can be said that is in in path towards liberation. With all heart we give this book to amplify your level of conscience, study it, meditate it, request your internal Father a sign that allows to recognize the cosmic wisdom.

The human beings that participate of this Happening are ready to cooperate to your spiritual development without requesting anything in change.

INTROITUS LAMINATES

The new world approaches, is the essence of knowledge, there we should arrive, for that, you have to abandon the old world, crossing the pristine oceanic order of wisdom in your interior essence. As the Creator's heritage the new world awaits for you. The new city can inhabit your mind, the new earth is an earth of expanded conscience where the perception on the origin and participation in the cosmos will allow you to identify what you are really, what you never ceased to be. Immense beings of love, light and kindness will come, they will return you to your origins integrated to the unit of the creation. The paths are this way: paths of water, earth paths, paths of air and visualizing paths. Those that go in water paths discover only the tip of the iceberg, you can perceive that something big is hidden in the waters is happening and it shocks the whole Earth equally perceived inside yourself.

That principle of metaphysical law exists, it is a vibratory law, it is the law that governs in vibration in the cosmos, this unit moves insistently, same for your body moves parallel to the universe because this law covers both states although in different levels, although in different forms, low energies vibrate in the low world, in the physical world, the high energies vibrate in the world of the spirit.

In the mystic world the vibratory frequency is high and it is what you should capture, abandoning the low vibrations, for that you have a support, the being's (Higher self) infinite support, only elevating your frequency you will be able to perceive the new world and only it can be achieved when your will vibrates in a higher frequency, when your heart vibrates in a high frequency (not the heart frequency), in that instant the condition allows to grasp this perception, developing a septenary sense very additional to the senses with those that have been born in matter, the etheric senses are in gestation process, some in maturation state.

The diverse cultures that have inhabited the terrestrial sphere have been informed millennia ago and you have inherited this wisdom, all this is in your environment, if you assimilate it, you will determine your future, it is this instant that this humanity a moment of fundamental transition lives, we would say a new form of perceiving the universe, that this terrestrial sphere including the suns is receiving that sheaf of light, that energy sheaf to fill the matter expands in centrifuges form from the center of the galaxy. The cerebral waves increase because they capture the essence of the universe equally the man's cellular architecture enters in resonance, enters in balance with the new frequency, changes will come in your behavior, quantic resonance called by the Molucs, a trascendent state in honor to TUM.

What you call God Creator, conceive it as light and energy like an all infinite, the geometry quantic physical and quantic chemical they make part of that present in all the religions. All that will exist and it has existed it is the light energy without begining neither end, It is in all their manifestations.

The clear and transparent vision allows to be discovered a background, a support cloth, there you will pose your feet because your feet vibrate different to your hands, they vibrate different to your head. All the objects vibrate this way , the plants, low animals, high animals were granted a range of spiritual frequency. What you call frequency is the rhythm in a state of time pulsed by the space belonging to the eternity, the times that repeats an act in the space, it forms the mystic frequency. Imagine the earth around the sun, imagine their trajectory , then locate the center of the God-Sun creating a continuous circle, creating an orbit, a cyclic orbit , the cyclic orbits is present in all conception.

Now with your hand moving make a wave that ascends and it lowers, that it is a wave, when the hand ascends up and then lowers at origin level to begin the journey again, this determines the quantic cycle that governs the nature, if you mark the graph of the earth in the elliptic around the sun noticed a cycle that is completed every 24 hours, the frequency of turn of the earth around the sun mark the point 24 Apolonio has spoken, he has explained this phenomena. This way the number of times that the particle ascends and it lowers until returning to the point of frequency of an unit, you call unit of time - space, that it is the frequency.

There will arrive an instant in that the frequency won't gear with the ago 4500 year-old same experiment in that the turn gives as a result of the solar journey.

Nowadays the human being measures the currents as hertz, it is the negative-positive exchange stabilizing in the neuter thing, the basic elements that conform the universe that you have called atoms, conformed by protons and electrons, neutrons together become unified forming the nucleus, those electrons they rotate around to the nucleus similar to the earth rotating around the sun, it is this way that the atoms vibrate and they push the neighboring atoms so that they also vibrate, if you assimilate the quantic field, assimilating you like an atom, who is around you, who cohabit around you should be pressed by your energy so that it doesn't break the atomic chain. The ideal thing is that the atoms form molecules that are always together forming cells that form organs, the organ forms the organism in total, it forms the physical body, it forms to the family and forms a city, the one that makes active part of the whole terrestrial sphere. In this order, in this measure works the micro universe and the macro universe.

The universe has a vibration, the Milky Way galaxy a different vibration, the terrestrial sphere the same as the other stars (badly called planets) behave in another vibration, in another frequency including the human being, including the CHRESTUS being, each creature vibrates in a certain frequency because all the molecules of the body in a group vibrate in a frequencial state. A bacteria in its world has a vibratory order its associates to the mass, in the go and to become of the existence the cosmos flows. Observe the water, it has an vibrational order it transmits the vibration, vibration of life, to the infradimensional beings and those that cooperate with the creation, the molecules of the water push it down and another time up granting this way the life, it is this way in all the elements, the transmission of frequencies is known as resonance, in fact there are analogical resonances and there are this way human analogical beings.

The human being A vibrates in a cycle per second and the human being B vibrates in three cycles, however they communicate, they dialogue and are able inclusive to understand each other. When going up the vibratory wave it emits a mamtram KRESSSS when being descended listens another mamtram HAL. The two mamtrams coincide and supplement each other in spite of having different frequencies. When an organ comes out of this frequency it understands with others but transmitting them their individual frequency, which creates what you know as disharmony or illness. It has been unveiled to the humanity the vibrational therapy consistent in using the vibration of some plants, of some animals and some minerals to balance the vibratory frequency of the organs. Equally it was unveiled to them the spiritual therapy, extracting the spiritual principle of the plants to elevate the state of conscience in the human beings, to the earth was granted an energy vibratory principle and all that there is in her associates with that vibratory and energy principle, when somebody attacks the nature or the earth, in self, there is a replication that attacks him. Magnetically the earth perceives channels of the sun and it emits those channels to the man.

When one ignores the vibratory order of an element and it is assimilated by the human being, that cell goes mad and transmits this madness to the neighboring cells. It was unveiled the transverse magnetic wave, this type of wave is assimilated by the brain and manifests it to the human beings. When two beings in the human species vibrate analogically they form a corporal single pattern. Without the frequency, the life is not possible, it has been shown directly that the intracranial structure has a tenth fifth vibration, seven scale eight, the same order of the terrestrial vibration, if not being this way the life on the sphere terra wouldn't be possible , when transporting a human being to another constellation order is induced to increase or to diminish its intracranial vibration to apprehend the doctrine in that constellation.

We are synchronized with the terrestrial sphere because it is part of ourselves, the damage that is created with the ecological devastation is damage against the physical body and against the other stars, the resonance of the earth, mystic resonance, physical resonance, spiritual resonance for thousands of years the time has accelerated, the life has accelerated , because the earth has also accelerated , it changes the physical body, it changes the earth, there is an option: the NEW WORLD that's coming to give you the great receiving and it creates with it a new body light , it lightens the DNA and it modifies from the universe to the human being. It will arrive the day of the total disprogramación, the earth will vibrate in another frequency and those that are not in the frequencial level will suffer serious consequences, their brain wont coordinate with the terrestrial waves, this is called psychic deviation.

The central photon should be crossed by your mind, by your imagination, the BEING'S hour has arrived, the hour of the DEITY comes closer, the point zero arrives, to begin the new age, in its inverse turn everything will return to the starting point, the sun will rise in occident to hide in the east. And in your body the same will follow. The terrestrial pulse will leave behind the human pulse, every day the human pulse accelerates, it changes its structure.

The call is now, corresponds to unify the world of the spirit, the key is to elevate the internal frequency, to unify the vibratory new order, to be able to adjust physical, mentally, emotional and spiritually.

The allegory is not to connect the apparatuses that you count on to high currents, its design it is for low currents, low tensions. You should remember who were you in the past, study the quantic mathematics and you will discover this way what is approaching you singly, you will remember that you are light and energy and that you were not therefore physical body, you don't belong to the physical body or the physical world. The spiritual world is manifestation of pure love, it is the multiple unit of where you come and to where you should return and if you don't make it, you would be violating the law of the manifested Being's (Great Presence, Holy Soul), but that path has being leveled and paved now by beings that with the help of the night, have organized according to its own ideals (EGO-IGNORANCE).

The doors have open up to ascend a step, a step in the stairway that must bring you to that high state to the roof, to there to contemplate the stars, to contemplate the cosmos, to contemplate your true Being's room, THE Father, where you have left and where you should return.

CHAPTER II VIBRATION

The vibratory rate of the earth, that is to say the vibratory pulse of the earth, accelerates, it has happened this way in other Eras, in other stars (spheres or planets), the whole cyclic universe, the vibration is increased and we refer to the past in that the high vibrations correspond to the world of the spirit.

If each one of those that inhabit the star earth, doesn't begin the process of elevating their internal frequency to become unified with the world that approaches with the new earth, will suffer serious disadjustment in energy, consciousness and matter.

Locate yourself in each organ of the body from the spleen until the brain (Saturn –Moon), the vibration or intern pulse is located in the palms of the hands and in the plants of the feet, in fact the technic right foot left palm of the hand and vice versa, allows you that magnus balance.

The path to return to our origin, is open and in rule, it has been placed some more steps so that you can step in and arrive to the superior stratum.

The universal net vibrates in superior spheres, it is the Being's hour, it is the hour of the knowledge. The net makes part of the universal system, there the humanity's thinking are captured, the imagination is in a superior stratum, but the human energy this near you, lets study in depth in the knowing of the universe, of the spirit and of the Creator that are in agreement and advanced factors to the spiritual knowledges, they gear symmetrically with the human. It is as well as the universe is a hologram and you can know it through a flower, through the sea, a tree, the mountains, a bird, even of a desert or a forest.

That hologram is an image that is obtained by holography, the holography it is the photographic mechanism that is based on the employment of the light, the fluently, coherent light, produced by the laser, that its interferes with a lunar reflection it passes to the quantic field and becomes solar light. It is the photographic badge there the interferences are impressed caused by the light and this is reflected to an object, an indirect reflection. The singularity of all hologram is that you can see the entirety of the object from a small part of that same picture even when you fraction it in those but tiny pieces, there are observed and the image of an everything is captured. When gathering all the parts, when integrating all the parts the image is made more clear but it is the same image.

What you call mind is in fact something basic and that it is based in the matter, it is assimilated in the soul and the same conduction of the holography, the experience of being incarnated of possessing a physical body goes beyond of the mental field, with the result that the conscience is more subtle that what you call the mind, the imagination is made more virtual (virtue) that the same psyche, now it corresponds you to understand the essence, the spirit is the one that gives place to the conscience.

To live an unreachable experience to the human mind it is important to understand their stratification, the conscience gives to place to the mind and this mind generates the matter. And thus we have: the essence plus the spirit flows the conscience, the mind flows and it drives to the matter. The essence, the spirit is inside everything and everywhere at the same time it is that that impregnates the conscience, it is that that flows in the mind and matter, this vision it drives us directly to the holographic science and it allows them to live the entirety, the unit, the everything and the parts simultaneously, in that hologram, you at the same time are observed and is creator, the idea of the space time just as you knows it in something lineal and something three-dimensional area where you live, all this interconnected that it is present and somehow it is passed, otherwise it is future.

The hologram or replica of the life, analogizes that the whole universe you can experience it and can be understood through a small part of him, which is you. As well as a cell allows knowing of a human being, without caring about the small thing that it is, starting from a tiny cell it is possible that it is known the body and any other alive organism, a cell, an atom, they can guide us in knowing of the whole universe. The same experiences of our own life will be able to help us to understand other people's experiences because these are united in the quantum field, if we are projected in any part of the universe, we automatically have the access to the message in its entirety, this indicates, it provides a sensation of being limitless when entering in conscienceness, in the conscienceness beyond of our contours, of their physical senses, that it is possible to transcend them, that holographic experience requires a wide conscienceness and a continuous expansion, hence it demands great sensibility for what is personal, interpersonal and transpersonal.

In health, the holographic experience is the experience of the therapeutic moment, this when it is possible to transcend the lineal time and the three-dimensional space, is when the cure appears spontaneously because of the arise of automatic effect.

We can live a social part, the transformation of the group, starting from the transformation of at least one of their members, the holographic pattern and their premises on the nature of reality. The conscience is the basic reality, the true reality that should be located in the energy that our senses capture, what you call health, what you call illness, its has a basic origin in the world of the conscience, in the social field our intentions are given by pulsing of the energy, that energy is beneficent or it is destructive, all is connected with everything else, this connection goes beyond a space or temporary proximity, therefore you call it causes and effect because they happen at the same time in consequence this idea it is of cause and effect, useful in the material world, it cannot be applied to the main reality or the world of the spirit because it goes beyond the tangible thing.

Its an error to consider people, things, events, ourselves as something separate, because all that you make, thinks, and believes about the different questions of the life or what you affirm, affects or it influences in the whole nature in an immediate way, changing the environment, being treated yourself, it cures other people, helping other is helping yourself, each part contains the everything.

That hologram corroborates with clarity that each part contains the whole, each same part of us contains our entirety, our true essence, the creator's essence, each cell contains our genetic structure, each group it contains in self the same identity of each one of its members, we are all that is. When exploring an external landscape, the universe it is also explored therefore the evolution that each one achieves, it allows the evolution of the whole humanity. The teachers, the initiated ones, constantly influence in perfecting of the other human beings, each aspect exists everywhere, what you are observing at this time has a reflection in the other face of the earth, when it is proven in the other face of the earth it is reflected to the universe and in consequence we all communicate in a permanent and insistently form.

Each instant is autoinformed is autointelligent and it is accessible to all in each moment, a past event can already be crisscross to the structure of our present world and it is linked to the world of the future, in the personal thing each individual lives in its independent world but in fact this is subordinated to the external behavior, because we are everywhere the whole time, in the transpersonal all messages of any happening is accessible to anyone of us through the memory of the nature, of the energy thing that it is part of that called cosmic essence or universal spirit, each person can continue connected with all the learnings, that made in the previous one, when being connected will knows what must come in the future.

The wisdom that you acquire from each experience of present or future lives they are latent and compact, if we access to the complete integrity the sense of entirety, you can achieve immediate transformations in different circumstances of the life, you call it health, coexistence, to grow singular or grow in group, the popularization and the energy is basic for the universe, each aspect is individual and it doesn't identify the person with the scene.

This is subordinate to the interior growth, the light is a particle and at the same time an energy wave, those parts are individual events of interactions that are pulsed also by the quantic energy, each moving being is constituted of energy, this indicates that if it is considered the light in a place, if it is identified with thinking or the matter you can achieve a modification in that instant, the human organism changes permanently, likewise change of the thoughts that are materialized in the future, then it creates you a shock or a liberation.

Starting from the conception of what we are really: ENERGY, each alive being is energy, therefore if it is considered light instead of being identified with thinking or with the matter, you will be able to achieve any creative modification in this instant, the body changes permanently, this modification is subject to changes, when what you call insect invades in your house, they are also light, become a lighthouse and speak to them, conquering them and making these obey you for the law of superiority.

Each creature in the universe is different in her conception form, hence each creature is unique and non repeatible, the whole is bigger than the sum of all the parts, when concentrating on the parts of that photographic badge, they noticed that the image of the object becomes more clear but it continues being the same badge, each aspect exists inside a bigger system than thyself, when associating this conception to the nature, you will have the understanding of life, connecting and integrating all the parts to the all universal one, you will get the understanding clearer of the whole group as we connect ourselves with those parts considering us a fundamental piece , we form the same universe, we are not ignored by life, we are part of the same existence.

An image more clear of our complete being you acquire it and in bigger form with your Supreme Being, that makes more creative part of the cosmic universe. A group of beings that form a bigger group has more forces and more love when becoming unified and solid, because they form a sum of individual efforts. The group in thyself has a potentialized power and anyone of the members can access to that state to be treated or to carry out healing tasks. Each creature has personal access or in group to all the knowledge or the wisdom to all creative force that in the beginning exists in the cosmos. The conscience creates, the conscience processes the virtual reality, its own experience of the reality, the Being's strands process coherent data with that to is habituated to what you already know, in the practical life we create our own virtuality and our own reality based on the experience that you go on living. We can also discover as we create it just as it is and changing our to proceed recreating another experience as a nutritious factor of the psyche. All the scenarios are available at the same time only we require to choose which will be the end that we want. All the ends are available, they are all in the shelves of the universe, you choose and that election is processed in the conscience it then to arrive to the physical world. Maintain effective the axiom: That it is not possible to cut a flower without it being perceived by a star.

CHAPTER III MENTAL AND CONSCIENCE PSYCHOLOGY

The true Spiritual Being, Father of all that's created, is and it will be always be the margin of all organization, He is the giver of life, only to him we should be projected the life, beyond the life, the true Father, is root and it is base, principle of the lineage of the human beings, this is captured by the living hearts, there all the things are received, at the same time you receive it and it transmits it to the universe when it is captured by his paternal wave.

It is the precision, the support, He protects you with his hands, this transmits to your offspring. Raise and educate them, they are admonished and taught to live, it puts them before a great mirror, at the end only is mark in which passes the vision.

It is like a gigantic torch that illuminates but doesn't fume the roofs, it doesn't eclipse the walls, the man in his transmigration acquires maturity and it is at times that he acquires a firm heart as stone, his face turns luminous as indication of high wisdom in his interior, only he can transform his face and to make that stone that has of heart, like soft and compassionate, there resides the wisdom and divine of the universe, if he dialogues with his heart, he going to find an echo, an echo of peace or a stone echo, the answer is captured by himself and only him have the conditions to transform it.

He is the master of all the colors of the cosmos, He applies them, he is master of the tones, of the harmonies that there is among a color and other, it can use those paintings to draw feet, to draw reproductive organs, to draw rains, cascades, faces, he will give them effects, he draws aborigines, red skins, the yellow race, the black genetic race, the white race.

Those characters of coppery color move the ideoplastic energy, there is a process of internal transmutation, the orichalkum is given as the result of that union, of that transformation and transmutation the external world is present near all spiritual or material creature, in a same way the creative or involutives waves arrives to each person, it assimilates them and in its return to the cosmic world is discovered if the heart, if its soul, is of kindness.

Therefore is an accusation, thy should take care of those distracted sentences, they only cause perversion, they are not viable peacefully, they precipitate to the abyss those that make echo of them, to those that pronounce them, but it can also precipitate those that ignore them; reflection and the sublime act of discerning, there this the key.

The unbecoming words are a knot and the knot this tied to a stick, in the floor there is the stone, exactly in the road that drives to your feet, in that road is a willow tree and a pine, a transparent sign as a book, as the painting, will give you fame. If you behave as a honorable being before him, if you see the light and you don't see the torch of where it proceeds, you should look for it, you see the shine but you have not discovered what it causes it. The wisdom, the serenity, the happiness, exists a box and a coffer, exists the coat and the natural shade of the tree, when you are required of something, cry for it and it will come to you, if you discover somebody that is sleeping, don't wake him up to help you, those that tear its lips calumniating don't use its verb, those that don't know the meaning of the peace in its feet don't follow them.

That old man, that indigent, that miserable one that is not happy, that seemingly is not happy, the one that has not taken food to their viscera, the one that walks by day and night looking for their dwelling and doesn't find it, the one that eats their fingernails, the one that has humidified their face with tears, the one that has their hands tied to their backs. Is in the forest with tied hands, they are many wild animals, they have dry lips and they aspire to arrive at the squares thirsty but with a lot of energy. Look at the banquet, it is similar to the river that obstructs your road, however don't stop, the great devourer is in the river, the excess of good appearance is fatal, the devouring one in the river doesn't recognize your appearance, it ignores your robes, it doesn't recognize the days of the week, neither your decorations, neither your jewels.

That instructor teaches and later he worries about what has taught and he screams to be shielded: there is one that has their neck stained and dribbles thy hands, is ready to defame, gives cry when takes possession of the things in the night, it doesn't leave from the front door of their house, we don't know if goes or comes, doesn't sing only expressed a feeling that confuses those who are near him. Doesn't know the order neither has the road, lives without meditation never ,moves continually and suddenly falls, knock down in the floor,konck down in the filthiness, tearing their dresses, doesn't go to bed with happiness to get up in peace, that it is their life, he likes darkness and hates the growth, escapes swiftly as gazelle, it is not civil, it attacks himself, it perturbed's its own mind, it throws bites trying to reach something or to somebody, it doesn't extend its arms to take someone out of the water that's drowning, for this reason won't die when it should die.

When it visited the temple stayed in the atrium, from there it contemplated all that it happened, it consulted to the traveling ones but didn't enter to listen, only listened in the distance the voice of the instructors that requested to help each other, to distribute their wages, likewise the foods, give charity those hungry ones although you have to keep little food, those that goes in rags gives them dresses, without caring that you become naked, aid those that require you, even at coast of your own life. Don't confuse the meat with the humanity, allow that those represent to the people are brought near, you don't greet them with indifference, neither with negligence, if they put you to load, support that load, you are a warrior as the eagle that flows in the space, As this are the cargo carriers that go in the desert, nobody dares to surpass to the other one, all conserve this way their position in the entrance you wont be the first neither you will be the last, when somebody requests a message, wait, somebody is near to you and can deliver it, only you will corroborate the message, you will corroborate its true reality if some surpasses you let it be, everything has its moment, but you for the time being you won't take the lead, only you have a position don't be angry for it and if they don't give you that position you give thanks for not having allowed you to participate of that reignus, it is of deserving the happenings that are lived in the earth, you never yearn foods with hurry, be moderated in requesting and hope the other ones eat first, then you will take some water and you will purify this way your hands your mouth, the fact that you are noble won't allow to get lost the nobility neither the precious stones, neither the turquoise ones neither the jadies, in any place of the sphere somebody works for you, there are many people creating works for you, you don't hinder that mission, you don't cause dissociation because of your ignorance, in any area of the sphere you will be able to meet with them and they can condemn you, they're identified as an old man, like an old lady, as a beggar, as a sick person, as a boy, as a leader, somebody that has lost everything and is not reason to live, in any place you can harm without seeking it , in any place you can without seeking it , make a kindness or good action, that your mind doesn't devour your steps, don't walk behind your desires.

Don't get conceited with the own wealths, neither rely on your to understanding, don't boast because you are convinced, your gurwark (dwelling or house in mistical terms) it eats away when you think and say subjectively, as that little bird that sings their happiness invades him but subsequently the rains comes threatening with destroying their housing, you don't open your eyes for the dish that has the neighbor's plate, you have not discovered yours, don't invite yourself to that plate, look for it if you want this way but don't leave it at random, have present that's a trap, don't act before the creative reflection, don't begin a work without meditating, without calmly considering you don't impose yourself goals, don't accept what you don't deserve, neither discuss or claim what is not yours, don't abuse of what you have not created, you never make anyone plead to you, you don't pursue offering of you're people, don't pass inadvertent because inside you there's the inexhaustible source to understand, if you have decided to sow, not only sow, you should erect (permit the growth), select, plant, so that those plants toss good roots, it is the moment to cultivate the sementary (your seeds), your fields , build in her a firm house, allow those that want to help you and leave it as inheritance to those that you have educated. There will be production, they will have flowers, in honor what gave you the life, that for who you live, you can borrowed this day, day of tomorrow and beyond, but at the end you should return for His blessing.

That that has made you pure deserves the glory, look at his blue intense waters , his water of jades, the luminous glass of turquoise has deposited the trust in you, so that your life is praised, this way you will do rituals so that the Gods visualized toward you, requests with whole humility, beg with justice, this it is the base of the ritual of the universe.

In the darkness don't probes with the feet because you will arrive to yourself, if somebody offers to load you to guide you, meditate because it is possible that only get to know what others know.

Be careful with the inheritance, equal is a fortune, the warmth of the poor person's home is due to that are calm, him, the wife and the children. Pay your tribute, you don't escape of the strong work. Love to the left and the right, don't even remain silent having the power. Have for those that surround you expressions of reverence and the action of accepting everything, if they ask you sustains its feet or its hands, that makes part of your service (cervix), If you want this way to reach the nirvana you concentrate the whole vision in the TO SOMA HELIAKON, you will embodied it this way it, one day you will liberate this way yourselves to begin again, mamtralizing its verb you will reach the supreme joy in any place that you are, you will transform this way into an excellent bird, you will see the tail of the bird, its wings.

Fathers and Mothers sprout they guide you in any part of the universe in that you are, their words should be assimilated, will you write them on the earth or will you carve them in the stone, the water, the wind will erase what you write in the sand, the stone will accompany you beyond this existence, the breath of life you must keep, never fear to have been born nobleman, never fear to have been born in the abundance, do learn of those states or maybe you've reached the nobility because you deserve it?, take in a hand a torch, in the other hand the soap, with the right foot sustains the hoe, in the left foot the seed, here this the great enigma, the doctrine of the autorrealización, the lineage, the truth and deserving.

There is already a heir, the throne of justice and that of mercy, is your condition the one that will allow you to access, bow your head or lift it high, if you bow your head with humility, the leaders will discover this majestic action, if you do it because of shame equally they will know the truth.

That poor person brings her frayed mantle, he has found it in the path granted by an old lady, had tripped many times, had fallen, but had gotten up again, the robes (dresses) had suffered the consequences. The initiate one won't be afflicted by his poverty, will not get sick hence that, your bowels don't lose weight, neither your heart faints, for very bent that life is and the destination, you will be able to hurtle from high, you are a warrior, your owner's firm hands are ready.

You will arrive to the root of your existence, concentrates your vision on what you are carrying out, place your right hand above the heart, feel the pulse and extend your look as when you draw something make it slow but without stopping, you will identify this way in what consists distress and the misfortune, what has gotten lost and what is inhuman, this way if it corresponds you to live it you will be able to transcend it, you will live it in your own peace, in your wisdom, your heart won't sadden this way. The Christic (Christ) cane will serve you as support, it is the leafy tree amid the sunny long road, but your lips should emit: OH Lord I come to rest in you, you are my balm, now I will grow green again next to you and I will toss new foliage. You have cleaned me and made me become pure, I have come to heal next to you.

Now you are clean, from now on your life depends only on yourself, even falling many times, if again you remind that Christic somber tree your forces will recover, He will throw your stain of its presence, once again it will feel pity and look at you in the eyes.

For those cripple of the audition, of the vision, of the smell, of the communication, of the tasting, of walking, understand this in the physical thing and apply it to the psychic thing, the vibratory frequency determines the cure, the return of these virtues to your being, at your gurwark (dwelling) you should cry out and take action, you will take the pure breath then you will be able to this way to speak with your own heart, this is the blessedness, the new city awaits for you.

Flexion your knees, lift your sight, now you will slip toward thyself and if something is tormenting you, if something is interfering your flow, dissipate that something, so that you secure your existence. Its the Food of the gods that is given you now in this age, even the hard stone when being frequently hit or when being touched insistently by the water is breached an opening, the relative thing in this way applicable to life, the snake was not born with feathers, it could fly through the experience.

You have already been shown the path and it is your own will that you take it, the tree when it has sprouted their flowers, naturally it has sprouted them, only the fructification comes, only until closing the cycle of flowers and it harvests will return to what have seen already in it, this is the word, this is the verb. Those that have become wise are because they have accomplished in a virtue form the explicit here, those that have reached the happiness, those that arrived to the nirvana applied it carefully and they woke up.

Look now at the eagle, now observe the jaguar both are lent to the hunt, the human being this endowed with a very wide gamma of feelings that go from those luminous and positive until those dark and subjective, however their nature is to impel, to stand out in a natural way the positive states without being exempt of manifesting the negative fluency, reflection, the spiritual energy also exists, the mystery of the divine one, the mystery of the sacred thing that contains the human life, the existential divine breath, that gives conscience to the matter even being corruptible, looks to break off her and to break the limited perimeter in which is contained and this way to restart the wonderful return to the all generating HELIAKON coming from that which we live for, that is everywhere at the same time, the one that is invisible as the wind and it is felt, it flows with our ancestors and allows us to project what will come.

The great gravitational force that orders the human matter, depends on the energy world, it depends at the same time on its soul state and this is subject to its spiritual energy, that force attracts it again to the generating source of everything. That principle of the divine duality, not only it is a God but an essential principle that governs all that is created, the marvel and the terror of being, of existing of having conscience don't come alone, they come accompanied by the fluency from the Great Presence, to her you go in moments of fluency, you already have clarity and internal force to face to these powerful forces of the universe and that they may enter in you, they struggle in the deep of your being. It is the mystery of the life, the reality of death not only imply the material subsistence, the humagnus (human) being has not granted that wonderful opportunity that it waits, it doesn't take advantage of the opportunity to be conscient or awakened.

To work, to consume, to possess, three principles of life that are required only as a mean, the supreme end and objective is to transcend the material plane of our own existential reality and to understand with humble passion the mystery of all the existences, being great in the physical thing consists on to foresee the mystery of the life and to act based on a consequence. The essence of the life is, fundamentally to transcend.

CHAPTER IV TRANSFORMATION

The universe is in commotion, we visualize the becoming , it will give birth, as when a woman sprouts a son, the universe is giving us the same opportunity to give us the light ourselves, at the same time to the earth, toward a high dimension it will allow us the awakening, when transforming the psyche, it emigrates to other areas more comfortable as well as the birds emigrate in the autumn without help of clocks, calendars and other functions of the life, the human being like an advanced species is beginning his path in the migratory order, some aware (with consciousness) , unaware others.

Toward the future, toward that benign climate , toward a climate more propitiate with more sun, with more stars, we are what we were, it is the hour of the crop. Visualizes for an instant the possibility of a caterpillar they seemingly don't have conscience that in some moment they will be transformed into a great monarch butterfly, the soul must become emancipated this way to become the great soul. The butterfly is to change her reason to be, she modifies her genetic structure discompleting it during that wonderful process of transformation and changes. The genetic structure that enters to the bud is different to that of the butterfly that arises and it conquers the space, for this reason the butterfly in her age already represents the biggest freedom and bigger courage, it is what is required with the will like combinations in the continuous growth.

If you observe with internal vision the chrysalis that is the place where the caterpillar changes continuously, kind of groups changing the code of their genetic structure to become a new being, the transparency in which the butterfly is ready, in the crucial part comes the sacrifice it doesn't require help and although the man can give it, if he does it would be harming it flagrantly for the rest of life, it is his effort who should break that shell, to conquer the aeris (air), if this can do it a caterpillar, visualize what can do the king of the nature. The new butterfly now has wings to reach the sky and to fly beyond the most highest tree, a new reality will live, in the decline of the day February 4 that becomes (2008) it will arrive to the earth the ray of the awakening, inside each human being it will be commotion, the life, the sun and the stars, as sign that there is an activation that the moment of the transformation has arrived, the moment to contain the bud, to evolve and to spring from to carry out the trip toward our interior, to arrive achieving the changes required in the transformation of the genetic code, which goes in a continuous march and that it will allow you to carry out that metamorphosis to re-arise as a true being with insistent soul like a new world, to a new dimension to a new life, to absorb the new wine to abandon the old wineskins, all that is happening in the universe will be absorbed to the earth, you will visualize the interdimensional exchange, they are supreme instants of life, choose the serpent butterfly or the serpent bird now, our old ones chose this way already, the sun, the twinkling of the stars and the moon, what deserves, to channel it to the external world, each word is transmitted it is transmitted each states of the verb, the stairways of the old temples contains the knowledge, the nuptial camera contains the wisdom of the alive beings, there is the true God, the essence of the sky, is the gentleman and is the lady of the duality, they determine to give the life to their life beings, from them come the destination, when the boy takes his first steps it is visualized by the energy of the old lady (elder woman) and of the old man (elder man).

Maintain present your existence, you don't belittle the night and wait the arrival of the day to sigh and to make the calling. This way the luminous torch, the thick Torch that doesn't fume (pothor) but it illuminates the experts, it illuminates the path to the followers, to the walkers and the hermits, this way the faces of the followers become dignified, observe and reflect, makes the disciples the multiple unity, skilled restless an able to get out of themselves , its heart speaks to them and they answer it.

The ray of SUMTOLTECAM also will arrived, beings with alive souls that know and they experience the cosmos, they know the influences of the stars, they know the march of the sky, they orchestrate the dance of the universe, they study the duration of the year, the chambers in the year, teach the symbology of the words, they intone the mamtrams, the persons go near sun- stars and thus responding in honor to the victory of the Gods, doesn't sell its word, his condition makes him honorable, sees from the tribune the game of life and it doesn't make mention of its lineage, doesn't like primary places, avoids the extremes, stays in the center, guides the center like social condition, the sage is a cosmic firebrand, a mirror of both faces, it writes with inks of diverse colors the guide to thysself, it takes care of the internal guardian, keeps as a beautiful treasure the doctrine and transmits it insisently. It admonishes when it is required and discovers in the other people's faces the incarnation of the doctrinal body, cooperates to improve the hearing of ears, clean them and takes care of them, it guides the guides, places the double faced mirror in front of the membership, it applies its light on the world, goes before in the path to observe with its vision the thorns and dead trunks, it guides the teaching of the alive ones and it doesn't belittle that of the dead's, it humanizes us this way and makes us children, cures and gives remedies to the one who seeks it, lifts its flag and teaches to the disciple, gives its life. Grass, stones, trees and roots, examines, experiences it, cures the illnesses, applies the massages, concerts the bones, purges the humanity, it extracts the fluid of nature, makes react and it covers them with ashes the excluded areas.

Its heart is strong at the same time its noble, is owner of its face and of its heart, understands the fool and it instructs him until the point in that allows it, it does it because it recognize the creator in its heart in the actions that carries out, observes the colors of the cosmos, it applies them, knows about tones, it combines the harmonies and draws in the sky the feet, the faces and the bodies and forgets the shade.

SUMTOLTECAM, paints the colors in the nature, in the flowers, in the birds, goes into in the water to draw and to retouch the fishes, it picks up the firewood of the field, it works the earth, leans to sow nopals, sandalwoods, cypress, powders of species, that gives to drink and it impregnates those of its disciples, has the precise answers to the disciples and the visitors, when somebody asks how the celestial spheres moves that occurs in the sky vestments, it demands that it pronounces firsts what passes in the earth, do you know all that happens on the face of the earth or you continue scouting with the feet, you are taken to the knowledge (teachings). You have been loaded at some time, the teaching this in front of him, the man is great and at the same time it irradiates this greatness to the humanity in the measure that foresees the mystery of the life and it acts in that frequency.

Each human being came not only to survive but to transcend, to reconstruct, to create, to maintain alive the spiritual world, for thy that is fundamental- basic, to transcend the first plan of conscience to which he gave the verb of reality. Lord of all calls to the Creator, it considers that the humanity is part of the whole and conforms the whole universe, so much as the beings of the past as the coming ones integrate the universal family, the one that is renewed thyself constantly, the nature from the minerals until the Ángel state all are active part of one common pattern: the life.

The human life is brutalized when the vision is focused to a simple material structure , this focus degenerates the psyche, degenerates the creative energy and the psychic energy of the human beings equally of the people. Comfort, pleasure, are generated by consumption and the objects, if it distracts your attention it moves away the human being from the mystic world, it brutalizes its mind it perturbs the senses, the consumerism is a degrading vicious habit that brutalizes, perverts and deviates the mystic, himself and the membership, that search of the happiness through the consumption has convicted the beggar and in trial is the rich one, storing(accumulating) degrades and it lowers the states of the conscience.

Its applauds by beings with enormous spiritual misery, the old civilizations have fought against this principle. The eagle and the lion exemplify this vision, observe the flight of the quetzal, you marvel when seeing get up toward the sky, now see the snake it is a wise, astute animal and slips on the earth, unite now earth and sky, spirit and matter , the eternal divine duality, a great challenge for the human beings , achieving the balance will find the feathered snake, this is the symbol of the highest human aspiration, see the sky you will have the earth, that it is your inheritance.

CHAPTER V COSMOGENESIS

Until this moment you have lived leased in a dwelling that doesn't belong to you, however by heritage you have the great dwelling, its the instant to return to it, to recapture what belongs to you by the right of conscience, what makes an active part of your Being, that was given to you in antiquity and until now you haven't used it. Show to the human being and with him to humanity the hidden face, is already hour to identify you with thyself, give the value to the wisdom of the Masters , they have waited patiently, per millennia that the life that you call moral, gear with the public life , this it is based on the search of the unit. You have two faces, those that look from the back part and those that look from before, a third vision exist, the luminous unit, the being of light should manifest in you, in the different orders of nature, when gearing this conception you will realize that your view changes and your same goes for your audition, the conception of the life is transformed. They're given this way the different states of conscience, it is there where is discovered the power when concentrating your mind, when flowing with your psyche, mainly the great love to creation is developed , the desire of service is amplified, finding this way the vocation that makes you apostle in the humanity. If you have decided to enter that dwelling , the real habitation, projects inside thyself the great cause, looking for it inside, you will find it, that it is your reality.

It is about a source of pure energy, in each scapula is the real base, if you place your body vertical with the fixed look, you will inhale the prana, taking the right hand to the left scapula, rub strongly for several seconds, then exhale and return to the initial position, now carry out the same exercise with the left hand, look at your inhalation is projected above the elbow, that position is Sanskrit, it represents the Quetzal, equally Sholok , that are the orders of transcendence in the world earth, all the human beings are energy source in constant mobility, there in the scapulas this the chalice of the iniciatic twelve serpents, called by the old ones (elders), the toltecquinus world .On the moment to assimilate that energy change the rune (of runic), this translates that the elbows should be vertical, the energies of the cosmos are captured this way, to be applied when you horizontalizes that hand, deposit it in a body, in the animals, in the vegetals, where you require of that energy, it is the form of capturing the microcosmic world energy and this way externalizes it.

In the first rune there is an axiom which translates; be made mystic, men of own experience, in the second rune another inscription: all those obtains their own conscience will reached the life , to then abide it, the experiences that come beyond of the grandparents fourth and fifth, they allow an apprehension of this earthly life, but their counterpart is the tie to the world, then you listen and then the cruel fight comes to liberate you of those ties, you can pulse this way that state of conscience called Buddha, called Krisna, the state of conscience is superlative, at the same time it is creative, wait the Christs second coming or the third Buddhist essence or the fourth Krisnic blessing. The base is the essence, for the mystic these returns are secondary matters , its solidity this in its first emission of conscience, the return of the serpent is vital, that it is a fundamental event in the life of all living creature, it transforms inwardly speaking into a practitioner of Messiahism (Messiah) , the different cultures have taught this way different forms, here you can apply here that transcendent axiom: all the paths lead to the heart, all emancipate the soul, some in a larger chronological state(more time).

The legacy of the toltecas, Mayan, Inca, Buddhists, east, occident, north, south, they guide to your interior, there is the true wisdom, the synthesis of the autoknowledgement, is your firm will, the one that determines achieving that objective, the road is toward inside , in this precise instant of the life the whole terrestrial sphere presents changes, meteorological forms, seismic activities, order and magnetic disorder of the star (planet), it diminishes the magnetism of the earth and likewise the form of moving the poles, there abrupt changes, the administration of the world economy is subordinated to these changes, that energy increment presses the necessary changes for the terrestrial sphere, this way little time is left, for the year 51 (2012) of this age (Akuario) all the aspects are marked, the humanity should work with all the energy and internal resources that have, to increase their vibratory levels, this way they will be able to support the new energy levels that little by little will go increasing and that her objective is to amplify the human being's conscience, connecting this way the two hemispheres in the cerebral bipolarization, this way a new cycle will begin. To be able to enter the new dwelling (house), a conscience based on life, based on light in the cosmic love. Have present that the physical body is the receiver of these energies, for that reason to the bigger quantity of emitted words, the bigger quantity of emitted thoughts, the vibration deteriorates, it is necessary to make abstinence (or fast) to drain the energy, reason for which corresponds to elevate those vibratory levels transforming the creative imagination of the positive order irradiating it to the fellow men.

You can donate instead of blood, donate vibration with the scapula technique ,you develop the energy field and you emit it to the horizontal world(dormant people), it corresponds to make it to achieve the connection with the right hemisphere, of not being this way it will not support the energy that little by little will increase from the universe-earth to the microcosms, it is vital that each human being begins this work of the autoknowledge, only them will be able to understand like those different bodies work, the different energy states, this through the conscience, through the heart, for this way to continue with this path, continue the removing of the material world to the spiritual world , the great jump to the new house, is the hour of the search, likewise the action of finding, is the hour of calling so that the doors open up, the great architect of the universe is an inexhaustible source of energy, of an intelligent energy, that it is the energy that vibrates, that moves the universe and it is in constant vibration it is the energy that moves and it transforms itself, you are made to image and likeness, foresee now the content of this sentence and you will arrive to the content or principle of what is the vibration.

The Creator has constituted you from the mental plane, you are also condensed mind, that in what you end up believing is what is manifested in your existence, learn that there's great correspondence exists among what you live on the outside and what you have in your internal part, is a reality beyond a mirror but over this way here of the dimensional mirror. living in the external world is the chaos, what you call problems, what you call illness, what you call calamity and tragedy, that is the programming of your internal cells. If you embody this conception you live in the everything, there is a total correspondence, starting from that unit you will give the great leap, studying day by day that great way that produces changes in your structure, the inscription of all vibration has an axiom: there's not anything static everything moves because everything vibrates, translates that in the universe in which you live there doesn't exist something that is completely firm or stable, everything it is in a continuous come and go, that continuous vibration and transformation is the one that should give you the margin for your revolution, each part of the universe goes toward to become something better, it evolves toward a new existence level, that it is the personal order.

The life impels you to the great living, like a better way of life but you don't capture the message and you will live to the basement of the great building, there are the crises and they appear when you remain rigid, inflexible in one position, that is not a rune. Some seemingly invisible threads exist that connects you to the cosmos, each energy and each act of the universe, creates a consequence in you and you move depending on those pulses, when but closed or sceptic you are to a spiritual idea, strongest will be effort that makes the universe to move you from of that point, this is the reason that people suffer strong crisis and then changes, that after the death of a relative, a tragedy, a calamity, her mind usually amplifies, it changes position. Some people require to go by illnesses, accidents or lost, to realize the value that certain people and their own life have, this goes according to the principle or vibrational law, you should learn how to get ready for the change of life, if you tend to cling to any object that you imagine, that gives you security, sooner or later you will probable suffer, because the same cosmos, because the universe doesn't allow that you cling to something and become immobile. Here the hermeticism teaches you that each object, that at a time is compound for millions of atoms and these atoms are formed by particles that rotate in great speeds around a nucleus, imagine yourself around the grand central sun.

CHAPTER VI AKASHIK DIDACTICS

Based on the duality of the universe exists two energy states, the high energy or vibration that belongs to the spirit, likewise to the soul, to the conscience; and another vibration type that it corresponds to the matter, it corresponds to what you give seemingly as physical, when the vibration is very low, the energy is considered in easiness in a isoelectric state. When the frequency is high closes the cycle and it reproduces the oscillating wave, the energy is made up of millions of atoms that are in a state of going and coming, a transformative permanent state , what pretends in fact to be solid is not it and it is verified when is moving, in another side when the vibration is very high it arrives to the end of the spirit and it is really when the energy is in rest or easiness, in this state the energy vibrates in such a high frequency that the soul when fusing with the spirit and conscience feels a sensation of total stillness, there it has closed the cycle.

For comprehension you can imagine the blades of a fan that when is without functioning you see the blades and when it works in vertiginous order a circle closes but it also denotes a state of stillness.

When starting any type of machinery you can perceive slowly their functionality, if you give yourself some soft touches at frontal level, you discover the rhythm and the stillness of that apparatus, the blades rotate so quickly that they can disappear, because they try to go and come, space and pre-space, furthermore you can observe through those moving blades, at more speed more transparent will be.

The organs of the physical body are formed by cells, in that instance we can confirm that they are composed by atoms, accepting this we can conclude that matter and antimatter are polarities, this denotes that that you perceive physically it is not physically and neither what you conclude as abstract , you can confirm that the physical body is organized one in 99,999% void and only a 0,0001% matter, however this percentage that you call matter in relation with the akashik world is also void. The akash is who studies the behaviour of the atom and teaches us that the physical body is insistently exchanging atoms in the environment that is. When inhaling, that air that you take to their lungs this constituted of an akashik atom, when exhaling you return the atoms to the cosmic world and again they are nurtured goes internal and sustain life, when you enter a place you begin to absorb part of that place, the egregor (entity) of the dwelling, of the field of the sea etc., of therefore comes that many places fill you with creative energy and other places subtract your energy and you come out tired.

A forest, a lake, a sea, the mountains, are loaded with positive waves, when you go in them, the physical body is renewed, you enter in a spiritual communion with that place, because it is spiritually a high energy, speaking this way the physical body is regenerated. It usually heals of many illnesses that grieves health, when you remain in a place of low vibrations, the body is contaminated and this contamination is felt by the person, anybody can be healed only visiting places where inhabits positive waves or to get sick only visiting places of low vibrations, this recovery is given in the instant and feels it in the coming days, after visiting a subjective place, the consequences can be felt until one week, two up to four weeks after that visit.

There are cycles in the universe that apply to earth, among three to seven years the organism renovates its atoms, we can influence in the atmosphere and receive waves of the cosmos associating them to a new body in this time, what really determines aging and the creativity is the mind, what takes those atoms and make them group to produce those changes in the organic structure is the mind and the ideas that generates. Any person that structures a thought of oldness to (Being old) from 30 years when gets 50 years old will be very old, in the contrary if you believe that age is your best moment, then the body responds giving vitality and enthusiasm, because we are what we think.

Each person has a clock that can be called biological and this is pulse by the mental waves or frequencies, it is the one that determines the moment that you begin to age, internalizing this dialectical conception we find that each particle of the physical body listens, literally speaking, the dialogues that you sustain, the waves that you emit in your mind because is vibrating in the same syntony of thoughts and responds faithfully to its ideas. If the thoughts is happy the body reacts with creative energies, if there is depression, subjective deliriums, tiredness, deceptions, if you observe the life from a subjective side, it finished by getting the physical body sick in the area where they lodge those ideas, people that suffer of chronic pathologies, are reflective of chronic thoughts, when you renounce to a subjective behavior pattern, then the healing begins.

If not being because the physical body is renewed in three or seven years , the chaos in the field of the illnesses would be present, for that reason the history frequently repeats, because the mental structure doesn't change, your body listens the dialogue, when there are doubts the confusion arrives and this confusion obstructs the waves mind-brains and madness comes. The beliefs are manifested more that the thinking, if you believe in the illness, the constituent cells of the immunologic system lower their weapons, they don't respond and this allows to contract many illnesses , contrary case if you conceive that your body is healthy ,that resists, the immune system gets strong , its strengthened with this idea and it doesn't allow the entrance of pathological states.

The millions of cells, of neurons that constitute the human brain, should be applied to life, when you will commercialize, the neurons take the message to the rest of the body and it feels the organic shock. When there is asphyxia, heat and you decide to take of your clothes, it feels neuromuscular change due to the generic drivers of the organism, there is a transmission, they are perceived in the hands and in the feet, there's a neuro-cerebral code or map that it should be investigated because there's the great key of recovering psychic and emotionally, in this map is the functionality of all humanity's motor activities, the sensations, the pulsations are specified in this map.

Its conclude that the mind not in the body, the mind occupies the cerebral structure, but it doesn't inhabit him, ethereally the mental structure is bigger in proportion than the whole physical body, but at the same time it is in each particle of the same one, what you call an idea doesn't come but from the akash and it arrives to the mind and of there it is spread in the whole organism, you should understand that each form of thinking, feel and act that you choose it comes from the infinite space, there are waves generated by beings that syntonize with you, they syntonize with each one of you, they are those waves that are helping to destroy or to build the designs of a star (planet), the ideas of perversity come from similar beings that generate them, as generating subjective aspects of weaponry here in this world.

In connection with the principle of vibration and effect, each vibration has an effect in the life, has an effect in the spiritual world, likewise in the akashik world , it is necessary to understand that the thinking when coming from the infinite space commotions the whole physical body, the universe basically is compound of the same substance that of the physical body, the intention, the imagination is conducted to manage that reality that you want, in connection with that vibration principle, life is being organized , it is required to create diverse vibrations, those that arrive to the earth of the different stars and these vibrations are created because in the physical body exists a solid base for each vibration type, it is amplified in that measure, in that constant and it is rhythmic and possesses symmetry, when conducting it prodigies are created.

Energies that are attracted and energies that are repelled coming from the seven basic stars (planets) of the solar system, you find in a church the religious, the sportsmen will go to the stadium, because each similarity is based in itself, the mystics in the astral plane, the spiritual plane attracts the mystics you only should allow it to take you.

Low vibration, high vibration, intermediate vibration. The intermediates vibrations and the high vibrations are within your reach, they are inside you, you externalize it from the human being's seven magnetic centers (chacras) , you put it like a bridge in front of you, you go yourself up in that bridge and you travel to the spiritual world, it is something that happens by spontaneity, you cannot reach high planes if is very low the state that you are.

What you call bad or good luck, finally associates with a cumulus of organic disharmonies, those that are outstanding are fear, anguish, depression and insecurity, all this rests in low vibration and by consequence all those that vibrates in the same frequency and ultra frequency will feel and live similar aspects (they have not finished with a pain when another making line).

The solution is to change the vibratory frequency and to act by generating waves of peace, happiness, love, visualize the gyratory base of each virtue, apply the corresponding color and the result inevitably is the natural fluency, shall be made with emphasis for a wise period, after which the instinctive center will continue with this great work psycho-akashik.

All calamity vibrates in a frequency, all happening has a point or organ as base, purifying the area of origin and mamtralizing the organic fluid, each circumstance becomes in a weapon for victory.

Initially the problems are transformed and followed act the subjective foundation, here shall take the impulse to reach the ecstasy of the sublime love which is manifested in the service to our fellow men sharing each gift coming from the infinite cosmos.

The reason of why arises conflict when somebody begins spiritual works, it is because don't know the frequency of their mystic new life and it follows it associating with people that have not begun their internal change. Another aspect resides in the fact that every labor week in the psyche has equally a frequency, what means that if the following week the same techniques are not applied that gives the same vibratory amount when adding, the two cycles closed an internal resistance deteriorating the practitioner's intensity (willingness).

CHAPTER VII ORGANIZATION

The human being is compound by millions of cells called neurons, when a person makes a decision, these ramified neurons, the cells take the message or order to the whole body, in consequence an action is generated. Somebody suffers of high tension and enters in crisis and somebody brings medicaments to this person believes in that medicine, in that moment there is a neuroconductive transmission that is irradiated to the whole organism, the neurons transmit the order chosen to the muscles, to all the neural factors until the hands and they carry out the movements required, there is not enigma in this, however a hidden mystery exists, even when somebody part a lemon or lick a lemon in front of another person, without having an apparent communication, the other person in its mouth feels the reaction of the lemon. Remarkable experiments have been carried out with a person giving his back (not looking) to ten meters of distance, cuts the lemon this sensation arrives to its auric structure and receives an impression of a 30, 40 until of 50 percent compared as if is in front, that is to say that the subconscious is connected with the aura. Two magnetic aspects that are traveling in parallel form receive the same impressions, these experiments are favorable to the cerebral map, according to this map all the activities that a person develops during the day are known, during the week, during one month, even during one year, when being examined this map we find all the life recorded in it, all the parts of the body are connected to this map.

The conventional investigators only finds the mass, because they think as mass, from the instant that they act as energy they will flow with the energy, in conclusion the psyche is not the physical body, it is not matter, the psyche occupies the brain but is not inside him, there is an amplification when a project arrives to the mind, it is because it was captured from the external world, we can say of the Cosmos, because the same universe this based on the psychic (animic) substance that moves the human being, that moves the plants and animals (anima), in relation with the vibratory principle, life acts this way, therefore the statement that the life is a single function, as the body it is a single organ. The vibratory principle instructs that the same energies are attracted, the sportsman for instinct goes to the stadium to meet other sportsmen. Each person, independent of the life that has, has gifts and calamities, when somebody comes near you in search of a help it will expose you the problem, you will study that problem you will live it internally, you will elevated to the maximum your energy level to help that person, you cannot try to help without elevating your energy level because finally is probably that the internal resistances will absorbs you in the same problem, although it is difficult to stay in the same stable level or the whole time because of the constant transformation of the energy in each living creature.

You can feel well in a moment, in a while depending on the affinity with your couple, with a friend, with the company etc, your psyche can lose temper, you can even get sick, the vibration enters in a descent (lowering) and it changes all of a sudden. Each person should learn how to take care of her vibration, this is something personal, to maintain it in a viable frequency, in general those beings called animals or human beings and that you say " they bring us problems ", occasionally they are beings or masters that put on approval your position with the alteration of energy, you verify if its solid or nonfluyent, if somebody has the power of making you feel bad or extract the bad humor in you , its because your weak part is alive in relation with that person's vibratory likeness, when changing you internally, that person that had the power of making you angry, isn't going to be able to do it, because the superior laws are imposed on the inferior laws, this indicates that as much as you improve your vibration, you improved the vibration of those that rotate in your environment, it is the best and effective mechanism to transform the neighbor, the son, the father, the brother, the friend. Improving oneself improves by autolivinghood (lifelike) of the conscience the relationship with our environment, this principle never worked the other way around because it would create a chaos in the cosmos, no person of low vibration can diminish your vibratory cycle unless you are weak in affinity with that person, the solution of that problem its in your structure regardless of the lower or calamitous that is, lives pshychally the friend's problem, dissolve it inside yourself with your vibratory power and this problem in the friend will disappear.

The concern or preoccupation is usually harmful because creates a confusion in the Faith, it absorbs the negative factor and increases the problem. Flow with those people that require help.

A son that becomes distressed for their mother's illness is demonstrating that more faith in the illness, that in the natural healing power of the body, therefore that concern is cooperating that his dear being gets sick, increases sickness and until it causes death.

The first thing that should the son make is for his own means increase their cycles of Faith, its vibratory cycle in consequence will be able to help that dear being that is sick, it doesn't mean to be indifferent to the problem, an antagonism is applied, absorb the essential difference to maintain the attention very fluent way in a happy solution.

The medicine doctor should psychologically see his patients getting up happy of their beds. Every time that you want to cooperate in the therapy of somebody, in the solution of a calamity of somebody, elevate your personal level and later enter in contact with that person that requires help.

In summary to help others you should be in well with yourself, because contrary case the other people's problem can end up absorbing you and destroy vital points in your interior. It is necessary to learn how to always stay in a strong position to this way help others to leave the via crucis (Calvary), to transcend it.

Have present that the ego of each one is who generates the dramas, the personal anguish therefor you should stay in a creative position, remember that there are points of happiness in your interior. The person that suffers and its identified more with the illness that with the health, is insistently contributing with subjective values to their own destruction, in fact their happiness is eclipsed, never listen the suffering patient's ego, listens to its soul to its spirit and will see that the creator is present in its temple.

When somebody fears, uses the spiritual mechanism negatively and it emits words that describe 100% the fear, visualizing with objectivity what that person could bring if your energy is bigger to that of him or it helps to collapse or the helps to alleviate, if one continue to insists a little on that way, the manifestation of that one fears will take place with a lot of easiness, because the cosmic principle indicates that what is feared happens.

Making a summary, the fear is the faith in the negative thing, to elevate our vibratory cycle that formula should be used but choosing the energies coming from the universe and channeling them creatively.

When connecting an electronic apparatus to a source where the energy is superior, to one that the computer or apparatus requires or it can support, it automatically suffers an internal imbalance or it is damaged irreparably, the operating system is destroyed. In these instants the superior energies are entering the cosmos, from the cosmos they enter the solar system and from the solar system they pass to Earth, from the earth it is absorbed by each person, those that don't elevate their vibratory cycle can suffer serious affections, the only form to be protected or to transcend is elevating the vibratory force.

No incurable illnesses exist only incurable people, exists a single medicine: Love, the energy of love, the vibration of love, the body of love, all those are able to understand, comprehend, live all that happens in this three-dimensional world, can understand automatically the enigmas of the universe, can understand what you say that that is up, this principle is helper of the cosmos, the apprehension of the enigmas of the life, when you study the function of star (planet), if you assimilate like an organ works, you will see like the cosmos works, if you study a person like cog wheel of a culture you'll understand all the cultures, inclusive the culture, which that person belongs, like that you can assimilate the behaving of a society, a Country, a Government, a religious school.

Already has been explained that the whole message that the man contains, is in a single drop of blood, when studying that drop of blood if you are able to go into yourself you will see yourself studying the universe, the entirety of the cosmos. you will understand this way the big of the big thing and the small of the small thing, but you will also see the big things in the small ones and the small ones in the big thing, because all this by correspondence in essence the holograms are inside thyself.

Even the infinite has a hologram, now you will understand this way the different planes of existence, brings this factor to you and you will be able to modify your words, applying that just as it is inside it is out.

What happens in your environment is reflecting what is inside you, although you don't understand it and it should not always be bad, the rigid ones reflect mental rigidity, same for fluent, it reflects that. When analyzing the conditions of your life you will be able to understand your environment and what is in your mind, many are structured mentally and they reflect that to the external world, you are attracted by your situation depending on your internal hologram.

There are subdivisions in the brain that absorb consciously or unconsciously many people's fluids or cerebral flows, per example you exclaim: you did a favor, and it is the cerebral or psycho-cerebral area the one that cried out without you being realized of it. When we transmit this type of ideas to the couple, the friend, and these at the same time projects that this receiving from you toward his family, creates a subjective atmosphere. It channels and amplifies your ideas and when it unites again it picks up of the external world what has amplified and brings it to you to make able that yearned growth.

You should develop the integrity of accepting the responsibility in your existence, recapturing the abilities that were given to you and to apply them day by day. You are responsible for your reality, instead of trying to find or to look for a culprit in the external world, look it inside yourself. Neither it is needed that you feel oppressed by what has happened in your life, change your psychic structure and your ideas will be changed, takes each calamity and each tragedy like a didactic, look and find the dialectical factor, wonder for the meaning that has each circumstance, when in front of it or when it is creating a situation, wonder where it is going to take you that situation.

The belief, that is the base of all circumstance should be studied. The words, the sensations and the images determine your life, it is then the hologram of the life the mirror of your internal state.

CHAPTER VIII LAWS

The law of the likenesses applies in the microcosmic and macrocosmic organic sense, this can be analyzed from a cell, it possesses a genetic inheritance, a common inheritance that has a message, which is internal and they know that substance and consciousness are analog.

The hepatic cells, the heart, muscular and other are different but it doesn't contradict the internal symmetrical and collective identity because this factor is unalterable they are driven by a law, the law of GIVING, that is its essential activity, to Give, that applies to each living creature, it is this way the universe, the integrity of all the cells is to Give, that automatically gives them another law, the law of receiving, being formed this way a frequency and a cycle the integral commitment, with that conception it automatically produces a reception that is the other half of the cycle, something as the storing (supply) and this is inconceivable in the eternity, in the present and in the future, a cell reproduces to transmit to its descendant and there is no limit, knowing, the experience and talent is fused in its reason of being, it's a class of immortality something technician, something practical, undergo the via crucis in the physical plane and to undergo this via crucis in the astral world, result in fact the victory, the generational opening, the entrance door, what some elders took as something inconceivable, when doing it they applied it to their lives, it is what a cell had pulsed and it is not exactly a mystic agreement, when we apply the law that translates to give, we can interpret as returning the owner of the life the part that it corresponds him.

The immortality consists, coincides in the belief of the life after death, however to the physical body doesn't concern those appellatives adopted by the mind, for him these qualities are plainly the form in that the life function, the result of the biological expression of the intelligence universal works this is throughout billion years, the enigma of the existence manifested its full potential with care and absolute patience, til date that agreement that maintains the physical body together to the energy and the spirituality seems a secret, because judging by the appearances the quantitative symmetry doesn't exist. How many diverse cells in the body carry out their daily activities, the functions that completes a single cell are diverse, 33, 36, 42, 49 functions. The Jupiterian cells (hepatic, Jupiter in the microcosmo-body is in the liver) complete 49 functions, they are exclusive of them and they don't overcome the muscular cells that measure in another frequency and function at the same time, or heart cells or cerebral cells. It would be drastic that only one of them failed ,we will understand here the hemisphere of the life, like it has found the way of being expressed by this conduit by this viability, when a cell isolates, non communicated, when its activity ceases, when the lives in hipodinamy creates an internal catastrophe, the human being singly is an errant and pulsing living cell that makes part of the great chain of life, when it stops creates a chaos but doesn't realize it, because of the lethargy state, of dormant state that lives, it doesn't perceive the chaos that has created, like a crash in a big traffic in full avenue, if the selfishness captures your mind and it prevents you from giving, only you want to receive, increase your goods, the instinctive cellular system obeys this mental order and the giving of the body is obstructed , the intestinal tract even stops its functions, it is known in the external world as constipation. The greed is the main element of a cancerigenic cell, the greed provokes the destruction of a cell, be 27, 18, 12 or 72.

The exaggerated consumption of foods alters a cell and it takes you to a primary obesity, to mention an example, the behavior that would annihilate the bodies in one day is given when you prefer to lean more in the illness than in the health, now you will understand because the cellular instinct molds it, organizes it. Exists the illusory life and the real life. It has already been said that a matter reality doesn't exist, there is a consequence, the specialists have observed that the small particles don't have a precise focalización in such a way that only they show an instinct to exist, those particles are waves with tendency to the life, the life in itself becomes fundamental, reason for which you should make a stop in the way you think and feel.

What the ancient cultures called MAIA that translates as illusion, from the geomystic point and angle of view translates as the first sphere the base that is Malchut, (the Hebrew sephirot) a world called world of the senses, the great experience, the dream for other, illusion or YOQUE, the hall of the akasic register, they are formed this way the worlds, they are formed the ideas.

The technique to develop this order corresponds to receive all the energy : infradimensional, dimensional and supradimensional, the cosmic world or cosmic energy translates to the mercurian figure in it but high golden color, it arrives to the physical body and it impregnates and fills it totally, the energy is received it condenses and the most important part is to give it from the room, the whole house is impregnated, the streets, it is irradiated to the city, the country, the terrestrial sphere is irradiated, visualize the solar system, when visualizing it, it will be your internal order or Being who continues the technique, irradiating each step, irradiating each point of the cosmos by psycotronik fluency.

CHAPTER IX SACRED GEOMETRY

When contemplating the human being you can observe the different waves, the different configuration patterns, these they are kindred to the cosmos, equally each organ for tiny that is has an image, a configuration and a likeness, the cells form this image, they form the organ and they are in descendant or origin to a superior organ, it was called in the ancient times spiritual geometry. It makes part of the internal contact, a superior contact very important for each living creature that enters the autoknowledge and navigate on the configurations states of their organs. Would be as uniting all the pieces of what you call puzzle, they form a whole. When embodying the different forms of manifestation an action reaction takes place, this reaction given can take you evolutionary to internal knowledgment or subjectively to lead away the path of truth.

These configurations of each organ are given by the beings that inhabit it, what you see in the appearance it is we could say: a physical illusion, the one that changes in connection with the emotions, with personal feelings or with personal experience, this way by means of these experiences, by means of these configurations of the organs you can end up recognizing your true being's greatness. In the all the cosmos insistently palpitates the geometry and the number, the universe is numeric, geometric in each one of the immense and wonderful manifestations of the nature, in the Growth of plants, of animas including the animals and the minerals, there is marked the sacred geometry.

For that reason the tree goes evolving and changes form, every day changes more and more its form, this way the organs, when they are pressed erroneously enters in zonal decomposition and its appearance changes subjectively , this is known as illness of an organ, the evolutionary cycles are the expression of the universal geometry, there are organic chains, like there are star chains that form the constellations.

when knowing the functionality of each one of the parts you end up when knowing how the whole is generated. It is not in the beginnings of the akurian age, it has existed for thousands of years, it can be considered as an ideogram and that enters to play an important role in the connection and communication with your essence, with your spirit, with your being, each spiritual structure, soul or spirit takes a configuration and this is the one that in a given moment can determine that the initiate one visualizes that configuration and mamtralize its internal verb. The subconscious occasionally is manifested and the initiate has astral experiences, it is here where it plays a vital role to dissolve the scum, so that instead of the subconscious it is the conscious who instructs.

The verbs called mamtrams together with the geometry: triangles, rhombuses, squares, simbology, circle and crisscross figures, these geometric configurations that being observed in meditation, it observes the potential aura , like it emanates the divine energy through that effigy (image), the subconscious captures the essence and the conscious purifies the teaching, it corresponds to be conscious that the universe stays conserving its principles because nothing is destroyed, there is a transformation in the verb, in a cronology, the evolution cycles you call microorganism, organs, the living being itself, the Kingdoms of nature or the cosmos, it is a cycle of manifestations at level of the galaxy, of the solar system in it, and consequently it also influences in our star, they are the same pristine essences that conceive to the universe like energy and they are at the same time agencies or sources that emanate supernatural forces. It is an universal law.

The high vibrations don't gear with low vibrations, they don't belong to the same plane of conscience, the whole universe covers this law, however the low energies bounds to the physical world, to the material part and they attract her members, they interact for the centuries of the centuries, they are sustained in a single vibratory level, the stars maintain its vibration that capture from of their inhabitants, therefore the urgency of improving human thinkin, to improve the energy of each star. When being invited to an average ideological church, if there is a affinity of vibration the invitation is accepted, if there high vibrations in the school and low vibrations in the initiate or invited one, the didactic application doesn't last.

The level of evolution and vibration allows you interlink with the cosmos, there are symbols that when visualizing them, they generate an alteration like when you see a picture it alters your psyche positive or subjectively. In the schools each person are instructed the basic principles of the geometry and there are geometry professors but they're ignoring the sacred geometry, the influence of the spirituality in the core of a geometric structure.

Through the spiritual geometry you understand in a simple way how different effigies work in the left hemisphere, that intimate and profound connection of the creation, it is possible to understand it through the cabalistic geometry, it represents the symbolic language of the energies of creation of the universe, helps you maintain alive what you sense and that yet not have felt, the universal intelligence is the source of origin of all the cosmos.

The great spirit relies on the spiritual geometry to demonstrate principles unaware to the mind. The existent thing was created by basic principles, the immense galaxy and the principle of the atom they are similar. Minerals, vegetables and animals triangles, hexagons, circles, ovals appear in them. Deepening the pseudo-geometric vast state until going in an entire range of effigies that are creative, concrete what until this instant is an enigma in the creation for you. Stones with figures in the cosmos, in the instant that in your hand has a stone, a vegetaloid or animaloide that it is identified with your place of origin or with your mamtrams prodigies will be created. You have found the great step to understand yourself and accept yourself.

Sustain in your hands a stone, elect in based to your origin or one that has oval form, choose now a strong wooden piece , give a soft but compact blow from the wood to the stone, record that sound, now you make it to the inverse from the stone to the wood, and record that sound, mamtralize it sustaining in the left the vegetaloid and in the right the mineraloide, intone this sound 7 to twelve times sustaining your breathing, imagination will be in the stars and you will see the great difference of a internal feeling, of an image and of a likeness with the architect of life.

CHAPTER X THE ELLIPTIC ONE

The part that allows the memory in the human being , is nothing more that you call the SOUL and at the same time it binds you to the whole universe, it binds to the absolute one with the sum of thinking and of feeling, the result of an experience is given and a belief, each human being is like an antenna receiver and radio station, irradiate the 24 hours and he receives the 24 hours.

The cosmos brings to the body physical experiences that are equal to your internal structure associated to that these irradiate. If you irradiate hate you receive waves of hate, it closes a cycle and you confirm your belief. When changing your way of thinking it changes that belief although you don't change that reality completely. When ascending to another plane of conscience it is received the illumination, gradual illumination, happiness or sadness, basically there are different forms and states of conscience, the different waves they have an internal representation, one generally lives in a relaxation state this is when there's a understanding of the universal functionality, what you call love, peace and understanding are those that impregnate the nature with the whole.

For this to work, it is needed a physical dwelling, the mind conceives the cosmos to its way, the internal figure is a geometric figure associated to the spiritual energy with relationship to the width of the manifestations, the essence becomes emancipated and a human being can live a mystic experience independent of his activities, in a sporadic or regular way, this when he determines to achieve it, he creates a kind of an alip or elliptic. The internal elliptic transforms into a mediator and that diverse journey for the different magnetic fields or attraction magnetic points there are extraphysic beings and other metapsychic, they all look to cooperate to the humanity's development, they have representatives in different areas of the world, in the cosmos Seraphs, Archangels and Angels they impregnate the humanity.

In the different states of conscience in an elliptic cycle, in a spiral, the earth crosses certain photonic states until it arrives to the central star, these photonic bands are internally small elliptic where the vertexes called chakras magnetic points or meridians have its journey.

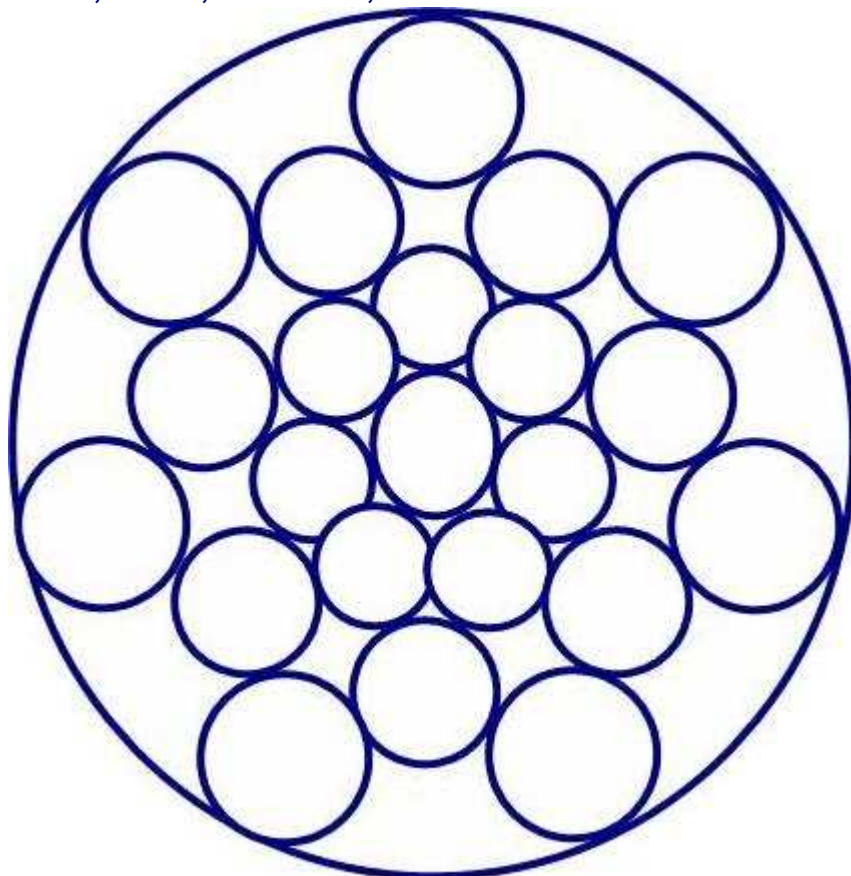

The heart irradiates to each organ, this irrigation allows the reconciliation for that reason it is important to give what is hoped to receive, in the human exchange it is always received what is given. Although it seems you that you give love and you receive hate, there is a void. The internal journey of the vertexes generates a fluency that is known as the language of the light, a way to give and to receive messages, facilitating the internal development and of the humanity, it memorizes without requiring books and without the intellectual help, now you will understand the 144.000 stamps or crystalline energies, they are particles of light that emanate when the vertex moves.

The net of Christic conscience influential in the earth, are crystal forms or forces that covers the human beings and the stars, all the nets become unified by means of the sphere of an universal pattern, with the great differences, that diagonal, round and vertical interconnections exist.

The current investigations have checked that different forms exist in the air, the temporary pattern changes and it modifies the climate, it varies the route of migration of the birds, whales, dolphins choke in the beaches. When the vibration changes the nature is unbalanced.

Now make a triangle, a circle, an oval, unite 7 circles of the same size simply, now 7 circles but 3 but 1 of proportional size, now 7, 7 but, 1 and 6, 3 and 3

this way, the ancient civilizations: Atlantes, Egyptian, Esennes, Mayan, knew perfectly the hologram that emitted this elliptic and this energy was used to heal, as much in the physical and spiritual, it is used the intention, thought, the adaptation, the order is reestablished it is what they called the rejuvenation.

It applies to physical and etherical bodies, here the consequence of the sacred geometry is marked, it is the flower of life, it is the crystalline womb of creation, it is about a pulsing code in a flower, a holographic code that the great universal spirit design to give them to the nations and it is an original pattern through which the divine fountain creates, it expands and the whole manifestation of life is amplified.

All the existent belongs and it depends on this hologram. Technics of healing that are applied to the life, it acts as a reconciling body, place it to 70 cm of distant of the physical body, to receive mamtralizing the seven sacred sounds (I,E,O,A,U,M,S) the amplified energy of the elliptic, subsequently the energy journey is visualized entering for the superior part of the head and it descends until arriving to the last sound (S), the elliptic one represents the cosmic forces acting inside a skeletal environment, it is the universal language, for such a reason it is used to focus the concentration and observation and elevation of the states of consciences in the Mayan and other civilizations. They are the system of geometric structures that are assembled and creates a group of stimuli and representations that react with colors, aromas and forms of life.

The elliptic ones are a kind of awakeners toward superior levels of conscience, they are connection doors with the infinite, through them they are discovered the codes of each internal meridian, you experienced a sensation in each mamtralized sound, the elliptic works sending sensorial stimuli to the psyche and the psyche deposits them to the organ in a sublime way. It passes through the vision, it passes through the hearing, through the smell to the receivers of the brain where it is processed and a favorable reaction is obtained, it recovers the self-esteem, the creative attitude flourishes, the anguish are dissolved likewise the fears. Great quantity of internal changes happens, do this in the dawns or when entering in the world of the dreams (going to sleep). Observing the graph in meditation attentively is enough, seven graphs in total that forms the MANDALAS, a kind of a cosmic ark, only visualize it and allow your psyche reacts to this vision.

The mystic creates a mystic point in the elliptic because of him the universe is born, its the universal uterus. In a single form different forms converge, when recharging your body with the elliptic energy you will be able to expand it to the city, taking it specifically to a person.

With the spiritual geometry the flower of life that is the same elliptic it is possible to know the divine spiritual germ, that becomes tangible because all the all the information and animation of the universe is there. You will understand the way to the unit of life and you will meet with the common origin of the different events among it. If you want to find the unit you should find the multiple point that is also the spirit and the essential forces of life. The base for the integration of the two cerebral hemispheres is in the spiritual geometry, because the masculine part is inverted and it is mounted in the left hemisphere and vice versa.

CHAPTER XI

SUPERGALAXY

A new elliptic approaches with it also approaches the new galaxy, that it is the place, the objective. The place where we should arrive to impel our psyche, leaving that old world behind, to be absorbed by the ocean of the interior wisdom, a new psyche, now we will remember what we are really: beings of light and love, in a return in the path of the unit, to the architect of the life. The wooden figures equally have answers from the Creator, the great difference between that figure and the human being is that one tells all that thinks, the other thinks all that it says, one gives value to all the things for not for they are worth, but for its meaning, some sleep little and others dream more, others understand that every time that you close your eyes seconds of light gets lost, some walk and other stop, some wake up others sleep, those listen when the others speak, some dress in simple way others with rags, some open their arms to receive the solar energy, others want alone its solar energy in its soul.

With the new elliptic the hate will be written it in a piece of ice, you will bend your knee and you will cry to the solar regent, this will make its appearance then it will come the light and the fire, those that suffer, those that cry, its tears they would dew the roses they were developed and they will feel the thorns, later on you will feel the caresses of the petals, only with a piece of life you will see beyond the childhood, you will see beyond the elderly, you will check the mistake then of those that believe that when transmuting they age, without knowing that they age when they stop to transmute. They were be given wings to the children however they will learn how to fly by thyself, they will understand in the senility that the death doesn't arrive in the age, this comes with the forgetfulness of the life.

When you arrive to the summit of the mountain you have not even reached the victory if you have not understood the true happiness in the road. You will be able to carry out all the pristine activities and will be entitled to look at another man down only when giving a hand to help get up.

What is in your environment is an expression of yourself because you are an extension of that universal energy field, if you assimilate that expression you will see it in your daily life. the interpersonal relationships are the tools for the spiritual evolution, the objective is the unit of universal conscience, because we all make unavoidable part of that same cosmic conscience, the advance consists on seeing in your daily life that connection, the dialogues with the common of your friendships are effective to reach that unit of conscience, you always always will be wrapped in relationships children, friends, marriage partner, works, affections ,spiritual and physical experiences. You experience a different sensation when you triumph in the company, when you triumph with your partner, when you triumph in the society, when you triumph in a sport, you experience diverse situations when a group of people that belittle you applauds you, to those that demonstrate its affection. When you feel a strong negative reaction toward somebody, have security that you have relationships and characteristic in common with that person, you don't accept them and for that reason they search you. When you understand them, they are dissolved and they won't bother you, if you understand that you can see yourself in other people, that relationship it is part of your victory, when you see yourself in other people it will be more easy to establish contact with them, and through that connection you will discover the conscience of the multiple unity.

Those that today are postulated as true luminous warriors, once were afraid of facing thyself, those luminous warriors once felt fear to the past, also fear to the future, equally traveled a path that didn't belong them, also suffered for things without importance and occasionally failure in their spiritual obligations, lived the experience of saying yes when should say no, and of saying no when should have say yes. All iniciatic warrior hurt somebody near very loved

That initiate one in this present world has a brain designed to receive each absolute cosmic frequency, the creator's imagination and it is activated to receive those frequencies that are under the galaxy, those wonderful imaginations that emanate of the super galaxy, the super galaxy it has been blocked by itself and although they are continued emitting images, messages, doesn't capture them(the initiated).

For that autoblocking, depending on the world where is develop and in the one that is generating, that is the quality of the frequency, it is cloistered and lives according to the social conscience, what goes beyond of the seemingly limitless thought and consciously limited in the human being.

It has demonstrated until this instant that those geniuses captures things that you dont capture, it is because the it has opened its psyche to contemplate the possibilities.

The sensorial functions, every time that you capture a superior thought, that mere fact activates certain doors that surpass the limited frontiers for you, it is activated a part of the brain and starting from that moment enters in cosmic activity and frequency. You will experience the superconscience this way, when opens up more it is bigger the flow of hormones and the latent parts of the brain are more activated, giving this way the margin to receive the highest frequencies of the imagination. It means that the genius is because he thinks for himself, he opens his psyche to the cosmic frequency ,to the supergalaxy, many scientists suppose that when using the brain to the maximum they will be able to transform his body in a spark of light in an instant conquering this way the immortality.

The brain has the capacity and for that it was programmed, to redo a member and grows when being cut. In a total state of the functionality, the brain has the capacity to cure the body completely or to change it parts, but only a little percentage is used, reason for which you are not able to until the moment to regenerate a lost organ.

The body stays of agreement with the brain and this in agreement with universal thought, whe universal thought enters , the brain is activated and the body is activated, the cosmic energy feeds this way the cellular energy.

When the boy grows with the conscience that it must be old, it is programmed energetically and he gives the aging as a result, those that take poisons to his body disprograms the electricity and the energy principle that enters to the body by means of the cells. If you allowed the body to receive the energy order with a high frequency continually, electric and more quick currents were sent and more powerful for the whole body and this would remain for always in a latent state.

Those parts of its brain that not yet have been activated they have that capacity with only knowing it, of reconstructing any part of the damaged body. Now you find out that the body regenerates the organ through the brain, this code is referred to what you call DNA, this is not a miracle, it is a natural brain-organs capacity. Sleeping or in alert physically, conscious or unconscious it maintains you receiving that energy flow, the subconscious transforms it to their whim, feeling or experiencing the defeat or the victory, the happiness or the misfortune, fearful or bitter, jealous, accelerated, you will understand this way who is God, what is the eternity, what is the happiness. The healing of your world begins in your conscience.

CHAPTER XII BRAIN AND CONSCIENCE

The terrestrial sphere has an unit of conscience, it is supposed that all the human beings by nature should capture that state of conscience of the earth sphere, however they are independent patterns in each living creature, the ant, the dolphin, the elephant, completely different states of conscience.

The light of a new day comes, the new galaxy with a new frequency and a new state of conscience comes, this way goes life, that it is a law, the integration of the cerebral hemispheres it is a virtue in that sense because each hemisphere possesses a different frequency, both are in combat, both pulses its integrity, the life is a unit, an organic function, therefore it establishes this way the world and the Kingdoms, the sacred geometry allows the cerebral reconciliation, the programming of the brain makes it useless, the time is not conceived correctly as lineal order, neither you can confirm the starting point or the arrival point in the time. In this stage of the life, the conscientive net that is the same of the brain produces a collapse in time, it comes of the seven dimensions an eighth dimension within the same seven dimensions for that reason the changes are strange and the body notices it, some experienced painful changes in its organism, other on the contrary they will live the life by inertia, the pain indicates the reaction of that same order of the body in opposition to an illness, it is the architecture of the world projected by the architecture of the cosmos.

The starting point is confused for the arrival point, when the force and the energy are integrated it gives a third hierarchy it applies to the life, it applies to that void, to each cell and each organ. It is the center of the brain the one that pulses the ramification, involution of the faith, the conscience it is exalted. Let us take the center of the brain like a point in the writing of a scroll, the point is interdimensional, it doesn't possess a specific place, its absent of the extrasensorial perception and of the manifestation, is absent of this world, this because here everything has an extension or dimension. The world it is a form and a point belongs to another scale of conscience. The metaphysical point, the psychic point, the metapsychic point represents the unit and the entirety. The essence of a circle its that tiny point that the architects trace, including the architects of the cosmos.

Now you will understand what is the unit of the conscience. We can associate it with a fourth dimension, the one that is on our star(planet) of third dimension, inside this third dimension however the molecular disposition exists, what is invisible to our matter world , in the fourth dimension those physical poles unite or they unify until disappearing completely and they transform into love and in light giving every time more and shining more.

When a mystic group exists both male–female leaders integrates its psyche with a single objective and they precipitate from other dimensions elements and ways of life to the physical world called earth order. Then it comes to be understood the development of the spiral that is another form of manifestation of light, kind of spiral it is like a geometric form that when uniting with another, forms the uterus of the universe.

The projective and the receptive, the complement of the two worlds, the earth that is physical element, and the metaphysical. When you enter in the feminine spiral you receive the waves of the super galaxy, when introducing your psyche in masculine spiral you emit creative waves as complement of the cosmos.

You are you then the neuter part of the nature. When we study to the tree of the science of the good and wrong it takes us to this same conclusion, light and darkness, ego and spirit. With the level of conscience that it is possessed at this time it is possible to project the life through the ether. Imagine inside your brain where this located the geometric point a simoom, a spiral that gains at each second more forces, more projection if you are able to sustain the color, the frequency and the hierarchy you have entered to live in the world of the atomic power.
